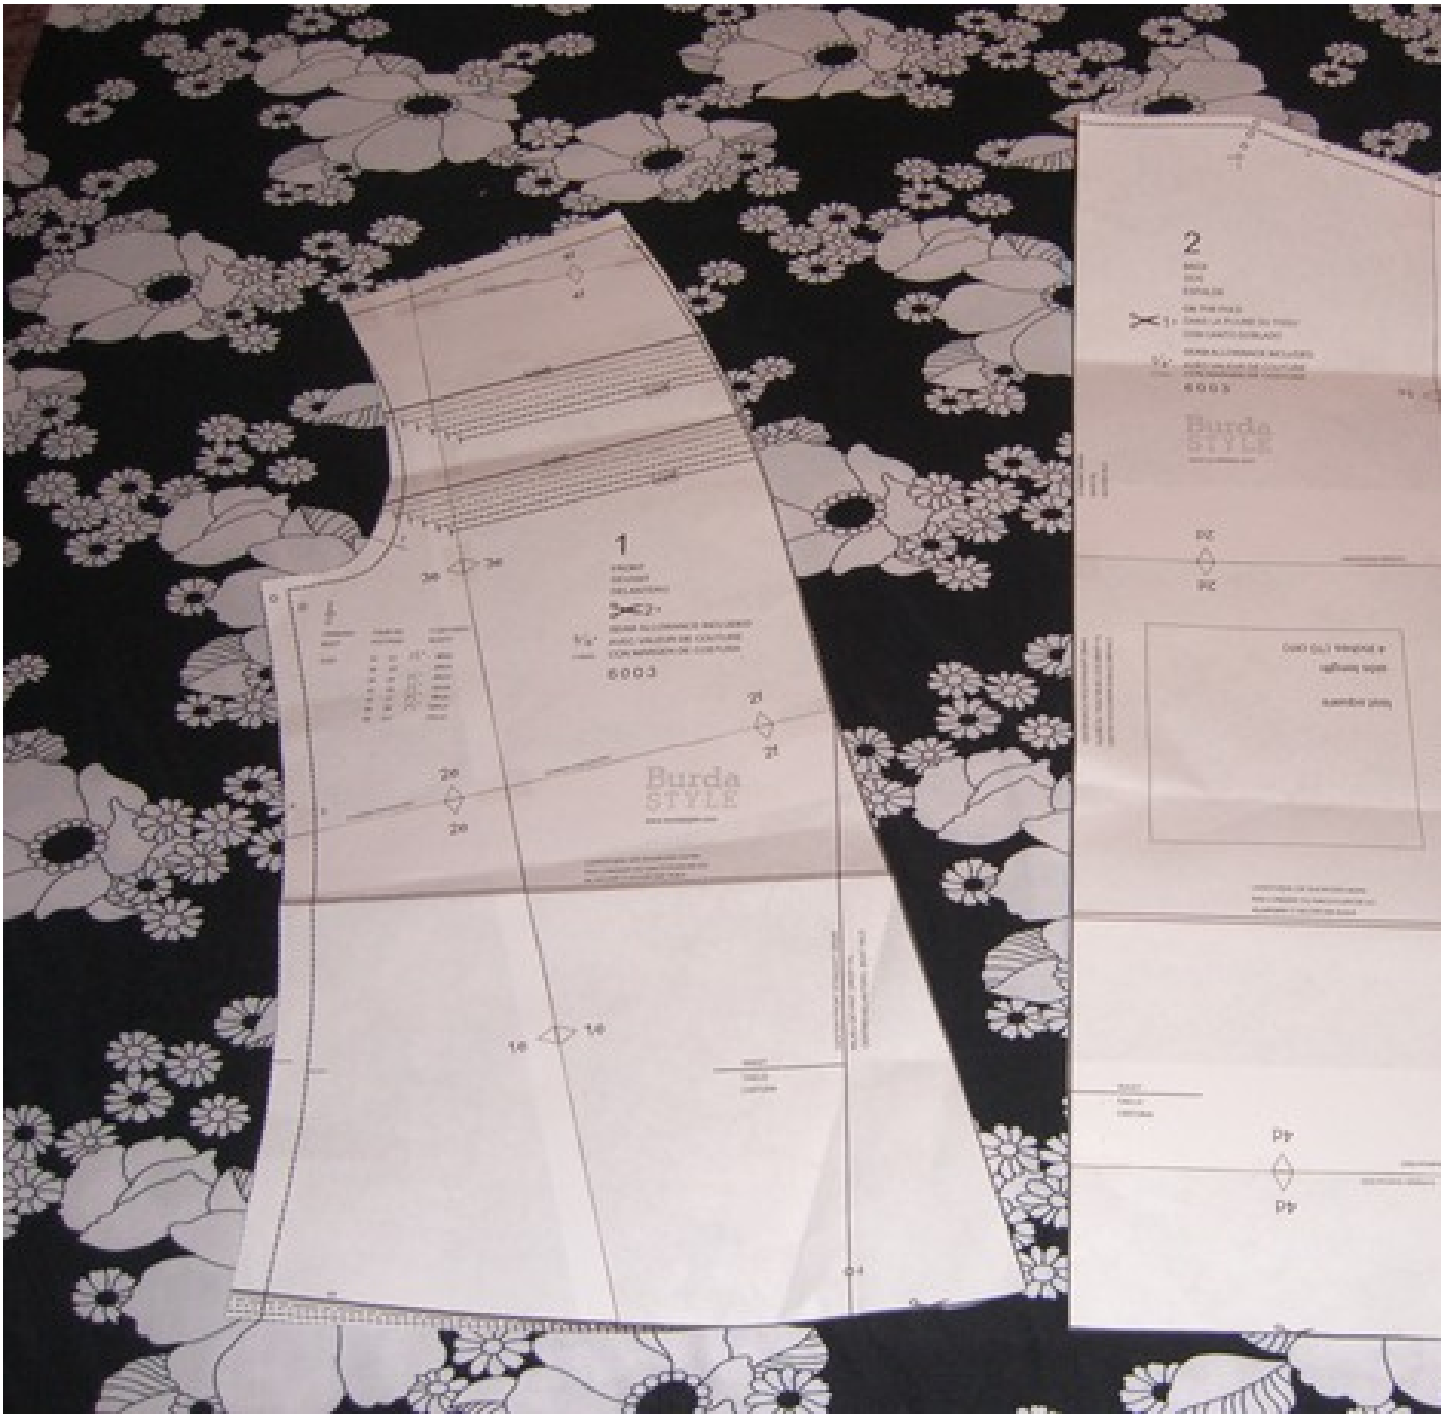
Use your ready to use Idit cut out pattern to make an easy altered V neck Shawl neck top

Materials

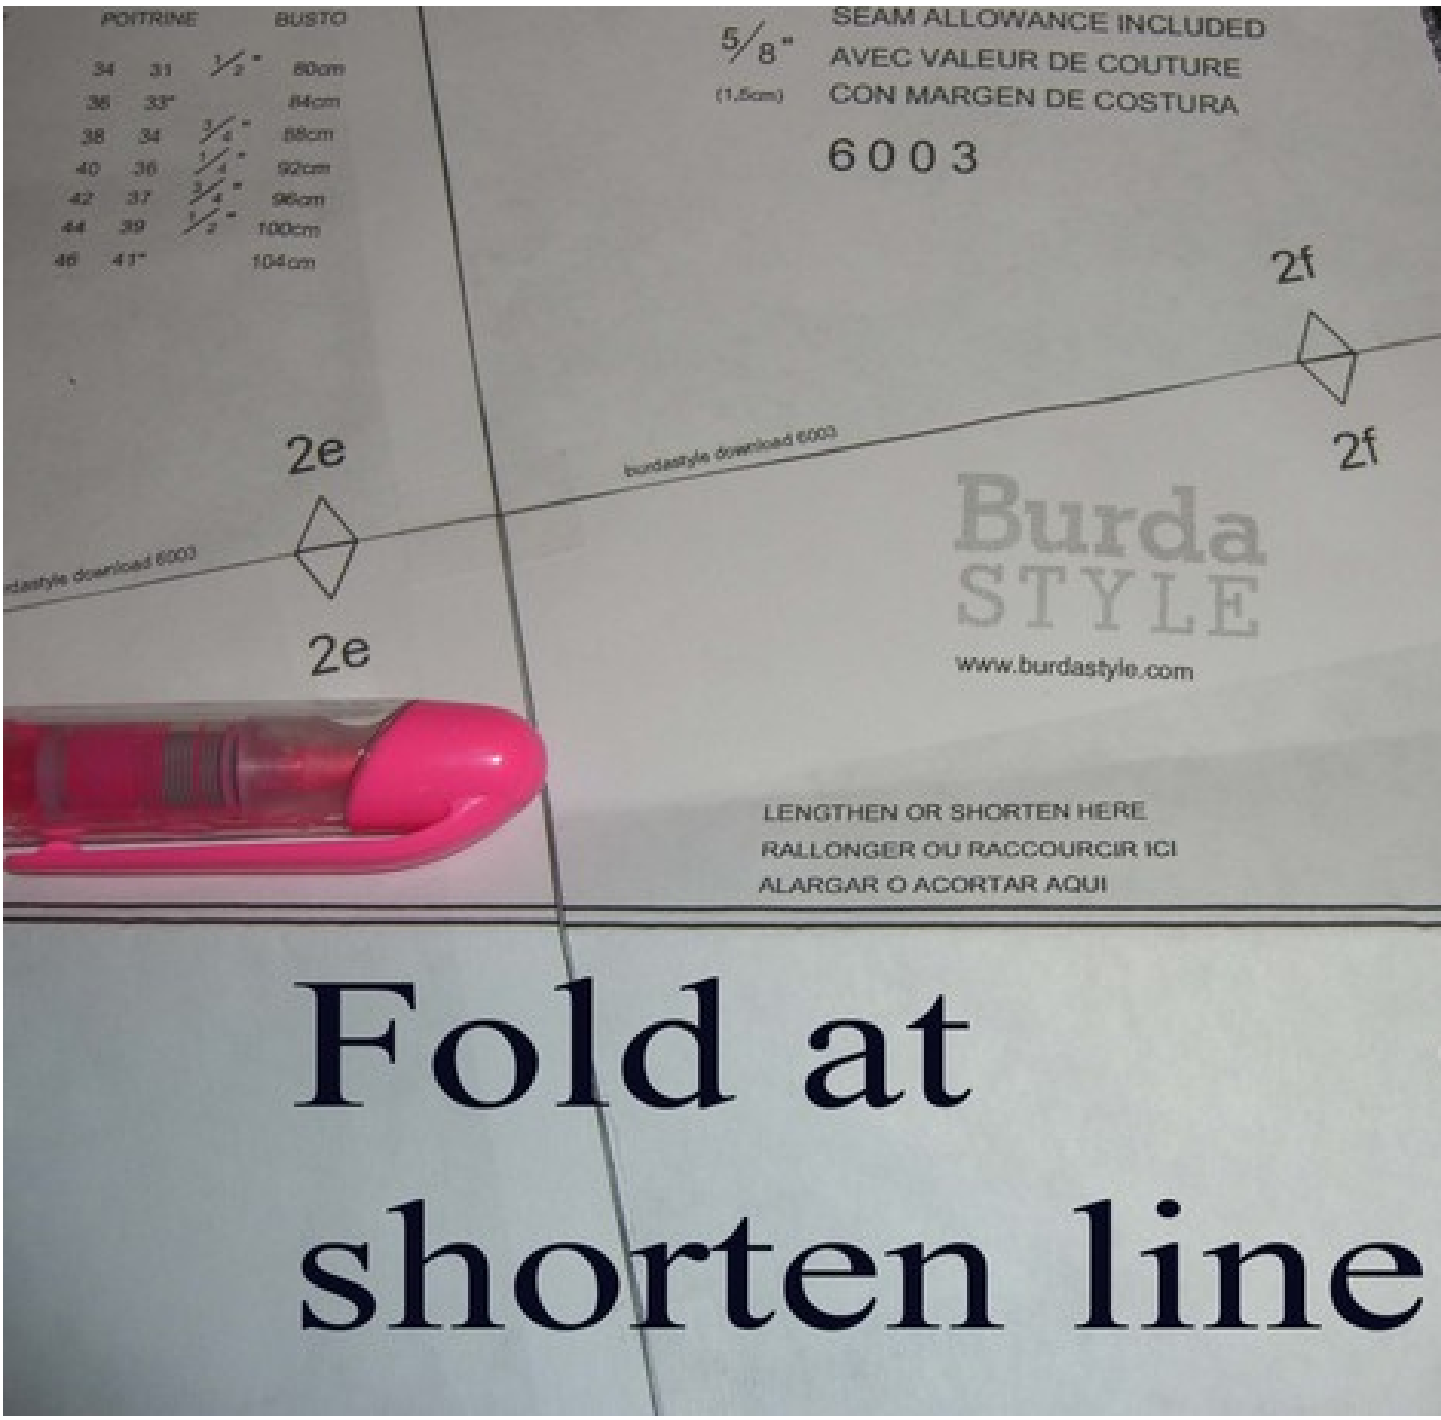
Knit

Step 1



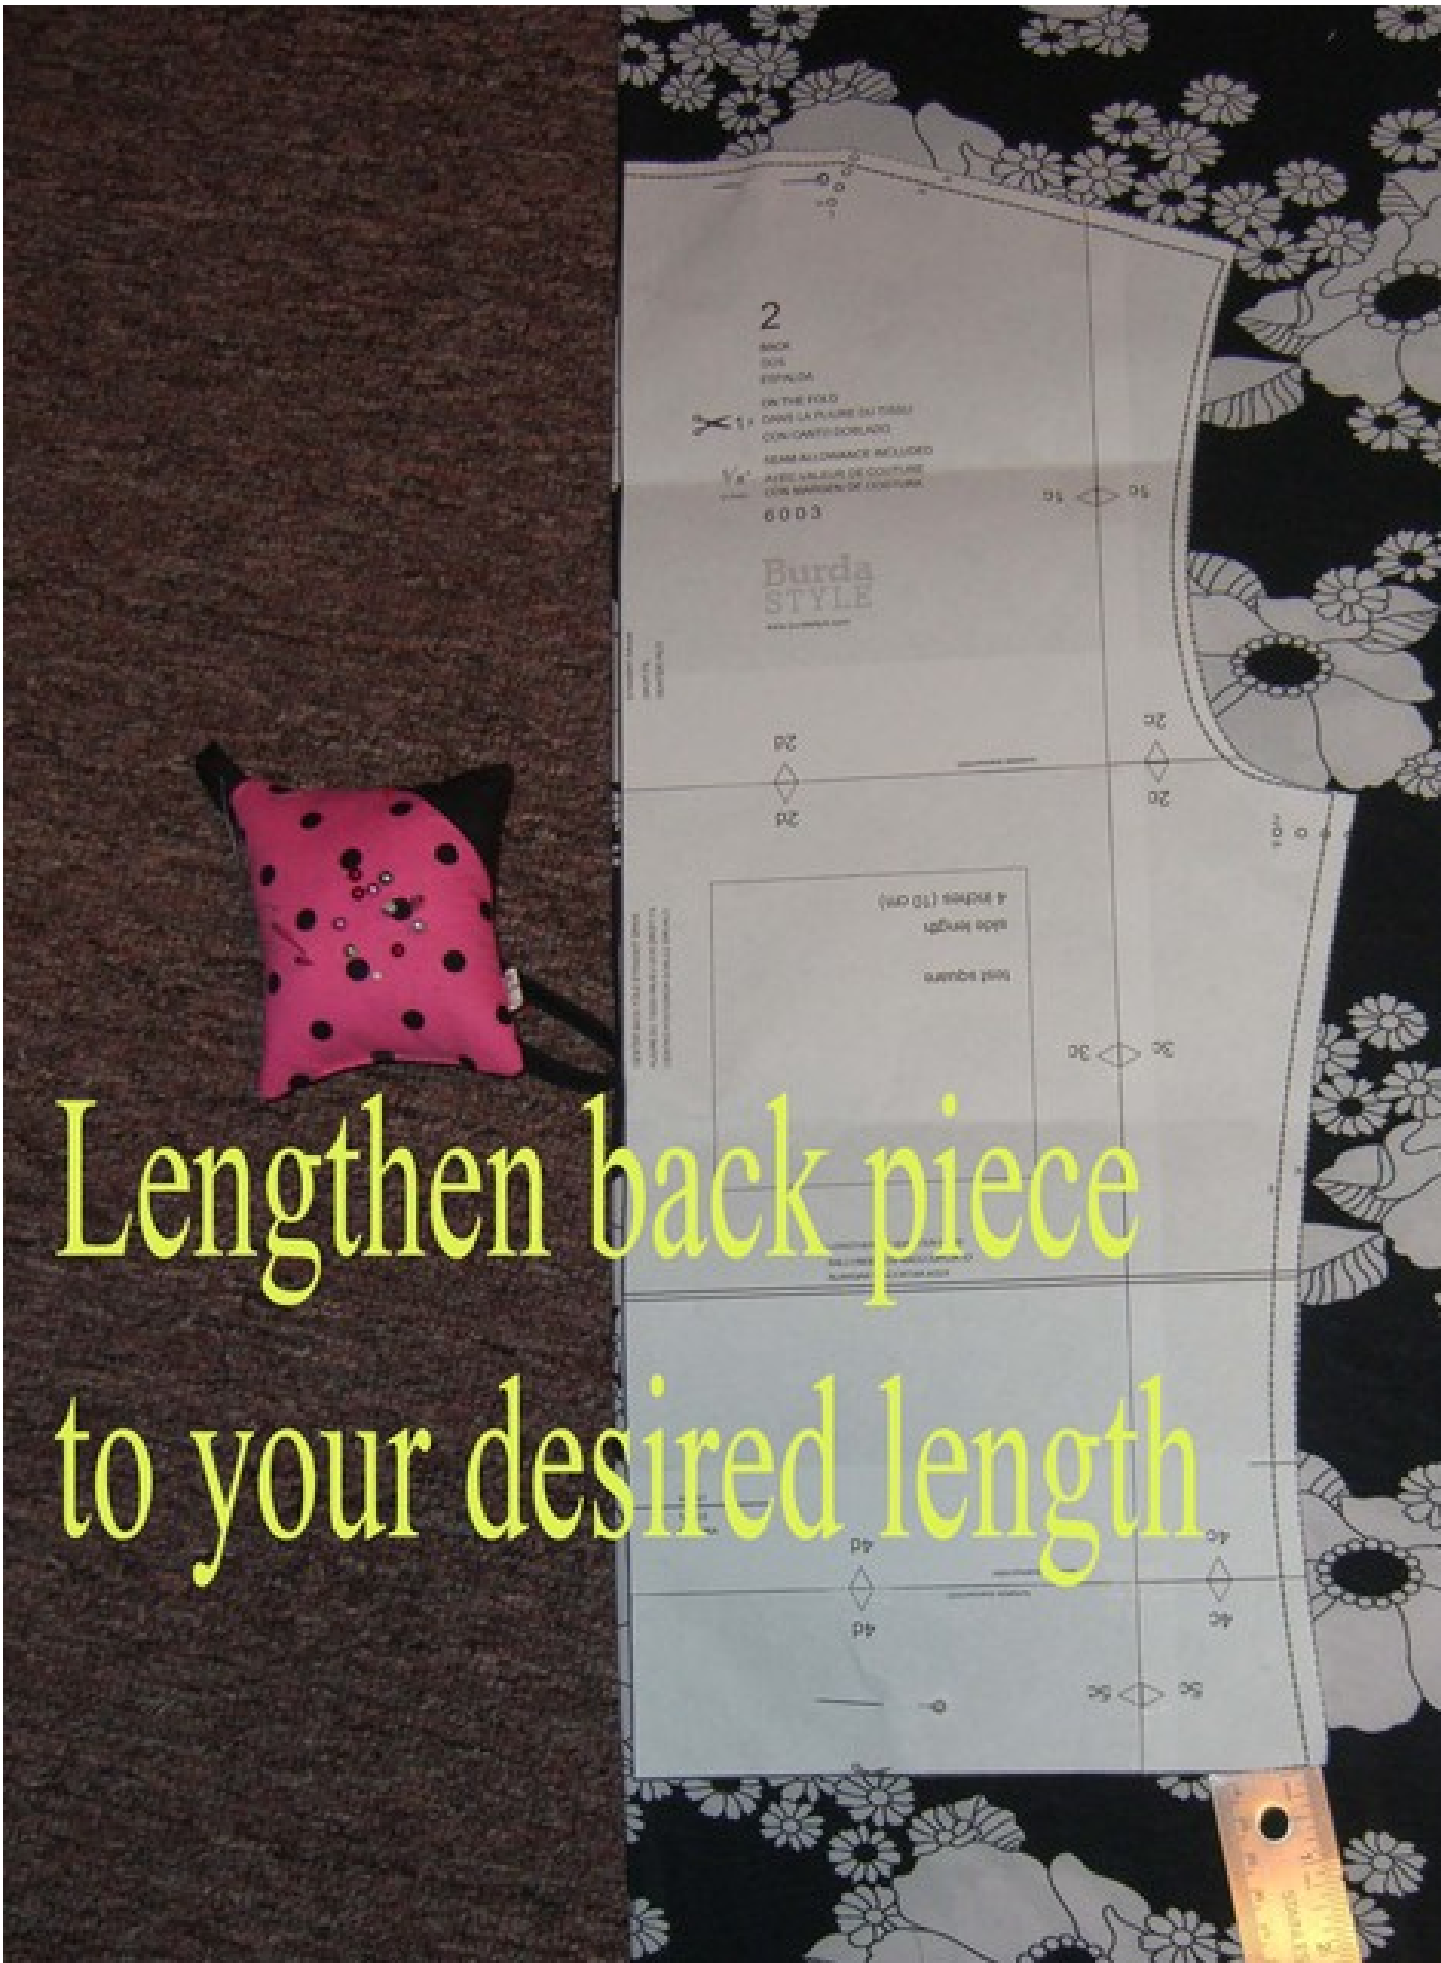
These are the two main pieces you will need. The top front piece and the back piece. Sleeves are optional.

Step 2



for the top piece, fold it at the “shorten or lengthen here” line. cut 2 pieces for top front.

Step 3



Lengthen back piece
to your desired length

for the back piece, you will want to lengthen it. I made it to hit at my hips, so I added 6 inches. Align to the pattern curve and cut 1 piece.

Step 4

For the top bottom piece, align top pattern piece at armpit of back piece cut out, see picture. I used the folded back bottom as pattern to cut out 1 piece for front bottom.

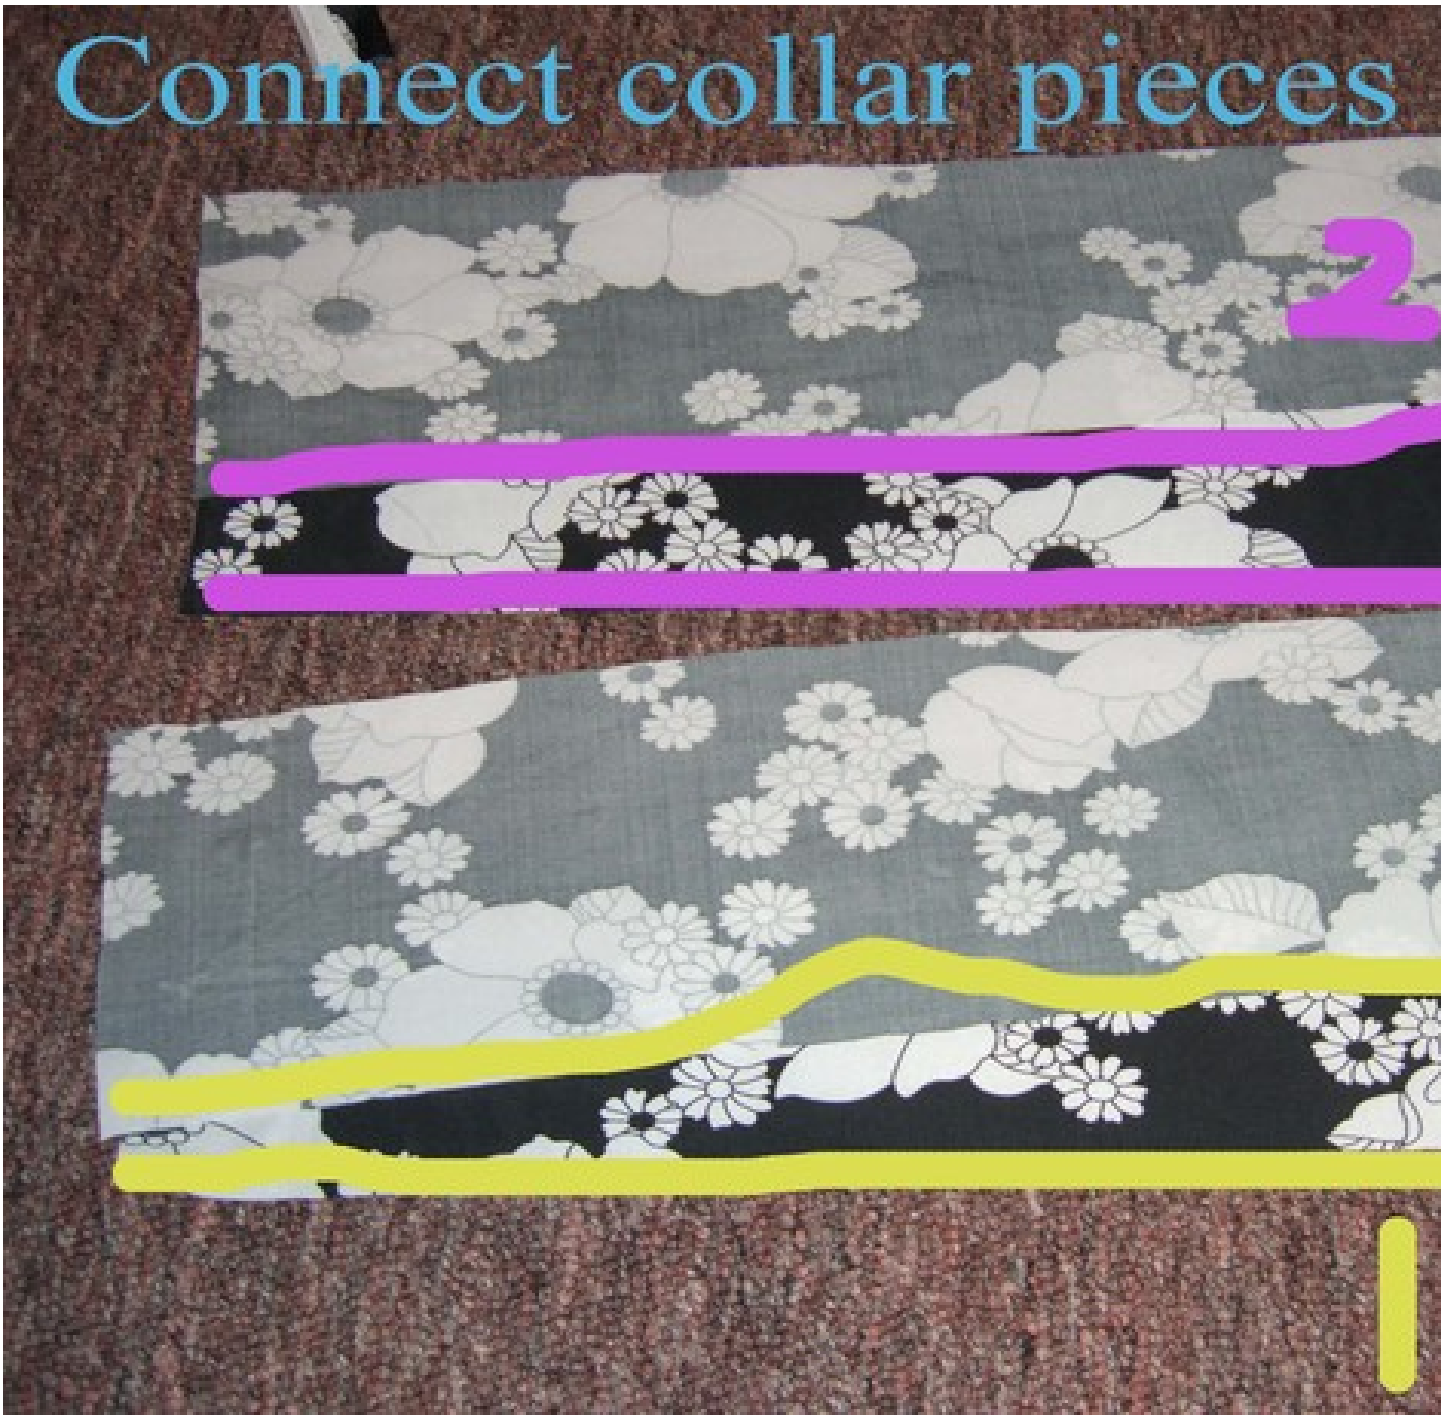
Step 5

Align the back and front top pieces at shoulder. Measure the neck line. Mine at 34 inches.

Step 6

so you want to cut out 4 of 4 inch x 17 inch(half of neck line) rectangles.

Step 7



sew the seams in the order indicated to create the cowl collar.

Step 8

There, a preview of the neck line. “Ruche” the two ends.

Step 9

Like this.

Step 10

Connect shoulders

Step 11

Then you want to sew the collar onto the neck line. Align center of collar to center back, then pin down sides. Sew.

Step 12

Flip it over, next we will pin it to front bottom.

Step 13

Align the right side (that will fit on you) to the front bottom piece. You can adjust depending which side you want on top.

Step 14

a preview of right side on top.

Step 15

so when you pin you want to align the sides first and let the center fall however far it goes.

Step 16

for the left piece, you will finally be overlapping the pieces. careful the overlapping part could be tough to sew depending on your fabric.

Step 17

Sew the side seams. unfortunately, our very easy cutting method results in a slight variation in length because of the seam allowance. Just align, sew, and cut if you don’t mind.

Step 18

so that’s seems reasonably easy right? If you don’t want sleeves, leave it like this.

Step 19

or you can use the Idit sleeve and get this :)
Good luck!
